It s usually some mystical place where one can escape the so-called real world and most would prefer to live. The notion or desire for paradise will ever disappear for one simple reason - people like it. They want Paradise to be everything they search for: freedom, a nice cottage by the lake or a house on the beach, health, security, pleasure, comfort. But something always happens to pop the bubble, as it did way back for the owners of the real paradise. In the traditional story, humanity was fooled or seduced into giving it up by a mysterious agent of evil hiding within a snake. Many religions hold out the promise of finding it again one day, which is another reason the search for Paradise will not go away anytime soon. The beginning of the end for biblical Eden starts when Satan, hiding within a serpent, tempts Eve, the first woman, into eating the forbidden fruit. That was the fruit of knowledge of good and evil that God told Adam not to eat,...
