T have already referred to their magnificent barn, built of stone of a circular form, three stories in height, ninety-six feet in diameter, and capable, as well as may be calculated, of containing from three to four hundred tons of hay. The carts enter in the second story; the floor or drive-way is continued round by the wall for the whole of the circle, so that the cart passes round the entire distance, and when the hay is discharged, goes out at the same door at which it entered. All the hay is deposited in the centre. Several loaded wagons may stand in the floor, and be sheltered and unloaded at the same time. The roof is a beautiful and curious specimen of carpentry; and appears to be most securely supported. In the centre of the floor, there rises to the apex of the...
