Elva Resa, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Corie Weathers, the 2015 Armed Forces Insurance Military Spouse of the Year, traveled on a one-week overseas trip with US Secretary of Defense Ashton Carter, hoping to gain a better understanding of her husband Matt's deployment experience. She didn't choose the timing or circumstances of her trip—Christmastime, in the midst of her family's second cross-state move in six months—but it seemed the perfect opportunity for Corie and Matt to gain a better understanding of each other's perspectives. Matt experienced life on the home front with new eyes as he moved their household belongings, prepared for the holidays, and settled their two young sons into a new school. At US military installations and aboard aircraft and ships in Turkey, Iraq, Afghanistan, and the Persian Gulf, Corie spoke with deployed troops and military families stationed overseas. Their itinerary brought her to the very place that changed the trajectory of her life. As she sat in the belly of a C-17, where her husband had said goodbye to the remains of friends and fellow soldiers, as she touched with her own hands the memorial at FOB Fenty and reflected on her grief as a care team member following the battle at COP Keating, Corie realized this journey was about much more than the push-pull of duty away from loved ones. This was a journey to the heart of her marriage, a place where she would have to leave behind her resentment in exchange for ground she and her husband had surrendered to hurt, misunderstanding, loss—and to Afghanistan.
